Digitized Zagreb Heritage on the web site Zagreb City Libraries brings together digital reproductions of invaluable and rare materials of the City Library collections.

The aim of this project of digitizing the valuable and rare resources was to introduce Zagreb's cultural and scientific heritage to children and students, to inform all other citizens of Zagreb and Croatia, as well as potential international users. The aim was to popularize the resources available only at the library, as well as to create general public awareness of the city's cultural heritage, recognizing the value and importance of preserving its visual identity.
